IN A FEW WORDS

Dear HVTC,

It's the most wonderful time of the year; an abundance of gratitude around the globe is the best feeling. In fact, it's the ONLY way to go; the more grateful we are for our lives, the better our lives get. Let's be joyful swimmers, cyclists and runners. See ya out there!

Sincerely,
Mark H. Wilson

HVTC Featured Athlete: Matt Merchant

By Mark H. Wilson

Do you know any kind people? Is there anyone in your life that just feels good to you? You know, someone who rarely complains and always does their fare share of the work and beyond? Or somebody who actually listens to you when you're speaking? These are all attributes that Our Featured Athlete of the Month, Matt Merchant, emanates deep from within. He truly has a gentle soul, that is...until he toes the line in triathlon; then, watch out, this guy's a rocket! How does he maintain such a balance? Here's his story.

Hudson Valley Triathlon Club

Volume VII, Issue No. 90 November 2008

Matt was born in Oneonta, New York and left high school to get married and start a family when he was sixteen years old. He worked for his father insulating houses and later as an electrician. After realizing he wasn't going to progress any further without an education he got an equivalency diploma and subsequently attended SUNY Cobleskill. Matt worked part-time and commuted to school to support his family. After receiving an A.A.S. degree in Fisheries and Wildlife Technology, he was able to move to Maine with the family where he attended the University of Maine and received a B.S. degree in Wildlife Management. He was awarded several scholarships for school and worked for the Maine Department of Inland Fish and Wildlife; specifically with the Furbearer Unit as a work-study student. Today, Matt is a Wildlife Biologist for the New York State Department of Environmental Conservation. He is in charge of the Region 3 (Ulster, Sullivan, Orange, Rockland, Dutchess, Putnam and Westchester Counties) Black Bear Program and the Sportsman Education Program. He currently lives in Hurley, New York; he and his former wife of twenty-five years raised four lovely children; 2 girls and 2 boys. Today, the "youngsters" range from twenty-three to thirty-three. Matt's daughters have 2 girls each and his eldest son/wife are expecting their first child next spring; bringing the total grand-child count to 5 overall. Could be a nice triathlon team!

As for athletics, Matt wasn't involved with any high school or college sports teams. He did enjoy playing some sports before high school; mainly football and baseball. Matt was in an adult baseball league for a couple of years during his 30's. Surprisingly, he was one of the better hitters on the team, but his fielding needed some work; next! Even though he had to work hours and hours to raise the family Matt was always active and almost always exercised. Matt would swim now and then peppered with some running; but he wasn't very consistent with either. One thing he kept steady was weight lifting; however, he noticed he was really lacking aerobic capacity. So, he began adding a little aerobic work on the machines at the gym; then, in 1996 his oldest daughter's boyfriend introduced him to cycling and helped him pick-out his first real road bike. Nice job, Kid! That's when Matt moved to the Kingston area for his present job and started running in the Boot Camp class at the Kingston YMCA in 2001. He continued cycling, which by then had grown almost into an obsession, and slowly added running to his daily routine. It wasn't until 2003 that Matt introduced himself to swimming again; in fact, 2006 was the year he committed to a steady swim program.

Matt's first triathlon experience was the Piseco Lake Triathlon in 2007; it's a low key sprint in the southern Adirondacks. Despite preparing very well for his first race in the pool, often swimming more than a mile at a time, he completely panicked at the start with all of the flailing and friendly contact, etc. Matt literally forgot how to swim; he almost gave-up on-the-spot; luckily he gained his composure and got through it. He states that the feeling still bubbles-up once-in-a-while, but much less frequently these days. Thank goodness!

Since that first triathlon, Matt's been busy cleaning-up the hardware at some of the top local races; Piseco Lake (2x), Vermont Sun Triathlon Series (Olympic & Sprint), Keuka Lake Triathlon (Olympic), Lake George Triathlon (Olympic), HVTC Summer Tri-Series, Cayuga Lake Triathlon (USAT Sprint National Championship) and Pawling Triathlon. The best part of all is that Matt's oldest son and his wife come and cheer him on at several of his races during the summer, "I couldn't ask for better fans." Even though his co-workers and family think it's insane to work-out the way he does; they mostly respect the idea and it seems to motivate many of them to be more active.

For Matt, triathlon is a blast; he's constantly recommending the sport to others. He likes the variety of activities and the discipline, planning, coordination of time, training, nutrition and rest that are required for a person to compete or simply complete a triathlon. He enjoys and thrives on a consistent, varied, workout routine; in the past, Matt slacked-off his exercise regimen and got out of shape fast. Especially since he has such an extensive/delicious junk-food list; chocolate, Chex Mix, ice cream, cookies, or basically any kind of baked goods! It's a good thing he also enjoys Cross-country/downhill skiing, hiking and camping to keep the sugar-pounds at bay.

The truth be known, Matt is extremely focused; he loves his job, it's important to him and he wants to do his best at all times. Admittedly, Matt feels that triathlon has made him better at work and improved his overall quality of life tremendously; including a marked improvement in both his physical and mental sharpness. His number one goal is to maintain the incredible fitness he's gained. Beyond that, Matt would like to do a half Ironman in the near future; perhaps in 2009. Looking further ahead, Ironman is on the radar and the SOS is a "must do" race to check-off the list, as well; Matt views triathlon as he does his life; an enduring, multi-challenging event. "I hope to finish strong and with a smile." At this stage, he BEARly has to try. Thanks, Matt!
